- The Environmental Industries Commission (EIC) is the leading trade association for the UK's environmental technology and services sector, which has an annual turnover of £60bn.
- EIC champions new environmental markets to Government and other stakeholders, representing the views of around 70 members at the forefront of tackling the climate and biodiversity emergencies.
- The environment sector adds an estimated £29bn a year to the economy, or 1.6% of the UK's GDP and employs more than 370,000 people.
- EIC works to ensure environmental policies are thoughtful and progressive, regulations clear and enforced, innovation rewarded, and finance and export opportunities are available.
